

REACT

Supporting Research on Climate friendly Transport

REACT project is partially funded by the EC

International Conference

Shaping Climate Friendly Transport in Europe

Key Findings & Future Directions

May 16th – 17th 2011, Belgrade, Serbia

Call for Abstracts

The REACT conference attracts speakers and delegates from business, government, non-governmental organisations and academia and is the major venue for researchers working on all aspects of sustainable transport.

The conference focuses on the following issues:

- 1) Future research priorities in climate friendly transport
- 2) Policy interventions in climate friendly transport
- 3) Evaluating policies and measures in climate friendly transport

A call for abstracts is now open for authors to contribute to one of these subjects.

Attendance to the conference is free. For a selected number of participants, two nights of accommodation will be covered. Priority will be given to those who submit a paper to the conference proceedings. Authors have the opportunity to submit an abstract. Handing in a full paper later is optional. Abstracts and papers will be published in the conference proceedings.

Deadline for abstract submission

March 15th, 2011

The Conference is organised by the REACT project, a FP7-funded project supporting research on climate-friendly transport, and the University of Belgrade, Faculty of Transport and Traffic Engineering.

Further details on the conference and the call for abstracts can be found on the project website:

www.react-transport.eu

www.react-transport.eu

